Zinck broke promise to boy: Father

Court. Dartmouth North MLA didn't come through with sponsorship money for him to play hockey, trial told

The father of a young hockey player, testifying at the fraud trial of a Nova Scotia politician, told court on Thursday that his son couldn't play in a spring hockey league because the accused lawmaker failed to come through on a promise to provide an $860 sponsorship.

James Moore said Trevor Zinck, charged in 2011 with theft over $5,000, fraud over $5,000 and breach of trust, had told him in February 2008 that he would sponsor the eight-year-old, then reneged six weeks later, saying the money wasn't available.

In court, Crown lawyer Mark Heerema then showed

Moore a duplicate cheque for $860 that Zinck had made out to Moore. The document was attached to a March 2008 expense claim filed by Zinck and approved for reimbursement by the Speaker's Office.

Moore said he had never seen the cheque before and he confirmed Zinck gave him no money in 2008, though the legislator did come through with a $200 sponsorship the following year.

"It's not the right way to do things and I just hope justice is served," Moore said outside the Nova Scotia Supreme Court. "I knew this guy. He was our MLA."

In an agreed statement of facts, Zinck has admitted that the Speaker's Office reimbursed him for $10,060 in expense claims he filed in 2008 and 2009, even though he never paid those listed in his claims, aside from a partial payment to one group — Lake City Woodworkers. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Unhappy meal. Man accused of indecent act at McD's

A 44-year-old Dartmouth man was arrested after police say he was caught masturbating in the parking lot of a McDonald's in Dartmouth.

The call came into police at 8:15 a.m. with the man allegedly masturbating in his vehicle at the McDonald's on Main Street. Witnesses provided police with a description of the man, along with the vehicle licence plate. He was eventually arrested at his home in Dartmouth.

Const. Pierre Bourdages of the Halifax Regional Police said the incident is concerning, "especially when you talk about a restaurant that caters mostly to kids."

Bourdages added if you see a crime or indecent act being committed, try to write down details about the car, licence plate and suspect but then call police.

"We strongly suggest for people not to take the matter into their own hands," Bourdages said.

The man has been released from custody and will appear in Dartmouth provincial court at a later date charged with committing an indecent act. HALEY RYAN/METRO

Halifax police say there is no need for car stunting that could leave a driver or pedestrians "gravely" hurt.

Police are urging the public to slow down after two men were charged with stunting this week, both going nearly 70 kilometres an hour over the posted speed limit.

Const. Pierre Bourdages of Halifax Regional Police said there have been 39 stunting tickets issued since last June 13, but he's not sure why two people were caught in such a short amount of time.

"Sometimes it's racing, sometimes a stunt could be the high speed, it could also be other things," like pulling a wheelie on a motorcycle, Bourdages said.

"The fine is significant — it's $2,400," he added.

There doesn't seem to be a specific time of year more people try stunting, with the highest number of tickets occurring in November (seven) and August (five) of 2012.

Bourdages said stunting charges are different from speeding because they cover drivers going 50 kilometres or more over the speed limit, racing or performing stunts on a bet.

Those who are caught lose their licence for seven days and their car is impounded for at least the same length of time.

A registrar could also put a bond on the vehicle, he said.

Although many people are caught stunting on highways, it's especially concerning around narrow streets like Herring Cove Road, where one of the men was caught doing 117 kilometres an hour in a 50 zone.

"I can't find a reason why someone would drive that fast in such a small street," Bourdages said.

"If the driver loses control, he'll probably injure himself gravely and other people nearby."

Holdup. Man arrested after Halifax cabbie robbed

A Halifax man is facing several charges that include drug trafficking and weapons possession.

At about 1 a.m. on Wednesday, a taxi driver called police to report a robbery. The 30-year-old driver was dropping off a passenger at Artz and Brunswick streets when the passenger told him he had a gun and demanded his property.

The driver didn't see a gun, but handed over his cellphone and the passenger left on foot. Police weren't able to find the suspect in the area.

A 22-year-old man has been charged with weapons offences after he was found carrying a loaded handgun.

Just before 11:30 p.m. on Wednesday, two police officers noticed a black car driving in the area of Pinecrest Drive and Albro Lake Road in Dartmouth that failed to signal on two turns.

Police say the officers stopped the car, smelled marijuana coming from the vehicle and arrested the four men inside.

After searching all of the men, police say one was found to have a loaded handgun tucked into the waist of his pants. METRO

The Kentville paramedic accused of sexually assaulting two women while on the job has been released on conditions that include a ban on practising as a paramedic.

James Duncan Keats, 47, appeared briefly in Halifax provincial court on Thursday and was released on $5,000 bail.

"He was released on a $5,000 recognizance. He's on curfew," Crown attorney Rick Woodburn said. "But one of the most important parts for the public and protection of the public is that he won't be operating as a paramedic anymore." Keats did not speak or react to questions from the media on his way into the courtroom.

He was arrested this week after a police investigation into a complaint from a Halifax woman filed on Feb. 7.

The 32-year-old woman said a paramedic sexually assaulted her as she was being taken to hospital by ambulance on Jan. 31.

Keats is facing charges of sexual assault and breach of trust.

He's also facing two charges of sexual assault and breach of trust in the case of a 71-year-old East Hants woman who alleges she was assaulted in her home in late May, and by the same man during an ambulance trip last September.

Woodburn said one of the reasons for agreeing to bail was because the alleged incidents were all directly related to Keats' work.

"Certainly, he was in a position of trust as a paramedic," he said. "We've taken that away."

Keats is also on a curfew from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. and is banned from any contact with the victims.

He is on paid leave from Emergency Health Services, and an internal investigation is underway.

Federal NDP to 'play its part' with intimate phone bill, MP says

Robert Chisholm says party hoping to prevent another Rehtaeh Parsons tragedy

haley.ryan@metronews.ca

The federal NDP will table legislation next week that it says will aim to hold people accountable for distributing intimate images — and to make sure the issues surrounding Rehtaeh Parsons' death remain "front and centre."

Robert Chisholm, MP for Dartmouth-Cole Harbour, said Thursday he is presenting a private member's bill in the House of Commons Monday that "mirrors" legislation put forward in Nova Scotia.

In April, provincial Justice Minister Ross Landry said he wanted legislation to make it an offence to circulate intimate images for a malicious or sexual purpose.

"We think it's important that the federal government do what it can in terms of the Criminal Code," Chisholm said.

"We haven't seen any evidence (the Conservatives) are moving forward on this, so this is our attempt to make sure that the issue is front and centre."

Parsons took her own life in early April after two years of bullying following an alleged rape when she was 15. Shortly after, a photo of the alleged rape was circulated through her school.

Chisholm said the NDP sees the bill as one way to prevent the tragic circumstances around Rehtaeh's life and death from happening again.

National relevance

Parsons' story resonates with so many people because of the factors involved, Chisholm added.

- "It's sexual violence, it's bullying, it's intimidation. It's the fact that the system appeared to be unable to cope, unable to support people."
- He is hoping the bill will be debated and passed Monday, but if it doesn't go through this spring then "definitely the first opportunity in the fall."

'No malicious intent.' No charges in allegations of kids' mouths being taped

Halifax police say no charges will be laid after investigating allegations of children's mouths being taped shut during an after-school program at Bedford South School.

An assistant instructor of the Excel program is no longer employed following the incident on May 17, but in a release issued Thursday, Halifax Regional Police confirmed no charges will be forthcoming in the alleged assault.

"The investigation determined there was no evidence of intent to harm the children and no evidence to suggest it was a malicious act," the release states. "It was also determined that the incident involved masking tape, not duct tape as was originally reported to police."

In an interview on Thursday night, police spokesman Const. Pierre Bourdages said they met individually with about 10 sets of parents to tell them about their decision to not lay charges. He confirmed that masking tape was used, but would not say whether or not it was placed on children's mouths.

"No harm was done to these kids," he said. "There was no malicious intent."

Bourdages said the individual facing the allegations has also been told about the decision and, as it stands now, the case is closed.

"At the end of the investigation, we decided that no charges would be laid with the information we had in front of us." PHILIP CROUCHER/METRO

Tourism

Uncertain when Bluenose II will set sail again

Culture Minister Leonard Preyra says the Bluenose II is expected to undergo sea trials before the end of the month, but it remains uncertain when it will be available for public tours.

Preyra says it's important to ensure public health and safety standards are met before the restored schooner is open to tourists.

The Bluenose II was lowered into the waters off Lunenburg with much fanfare last September, and the government had said it was expected to be ready for public sailing this summer.

But since then, work has continued on the wooden vessel.

Preyra says its restoration has cost about $16 million, $4.9 million of which came from Ottawa.

He says there may be additional labour costs, but was unable to provide an estimate on them.

Halifamous green thumbs put to work

Garden Day. Citizens to vote on best planter by local personalities

HALEY RYAN
haley.ryan@metronews.ca

Tracy Jessen is hopeful an event on Friday plants an appreciation for all things green into Haligonian heads.

At 10 a.m., Halifax kicks off Canada's first Garden Day in the Public Gardens when four Halifamous people will design their own planter for citizens to vote on. They will be displayed around the newest water fountain by the public washrooms, and over the next three to four weeks people can vote online for their favourite at halifax.ca/publicgardens.

"They will double in size. They get huge because they're in nice sunny location," said Jessen, a gardener with the historic park.

The four gardeners are Chris Mitchell, manager of the Public Gardens; Minister of Culture and Heritage Leonard Preyra; Coun. Linda Mosher; and Mackenzie Grisdale, producer of CBC's Mainstreet.

Jessen said the contestants can ask tips from an experienced gardener as they design their "Victorian planter" in a half-hour using the same 10 plants and a few from the "wildcard table."

She said the Garden Day event is important because it breaks "plant-blindness," which is brought on when we become used to seeing flowers and trees all the time.

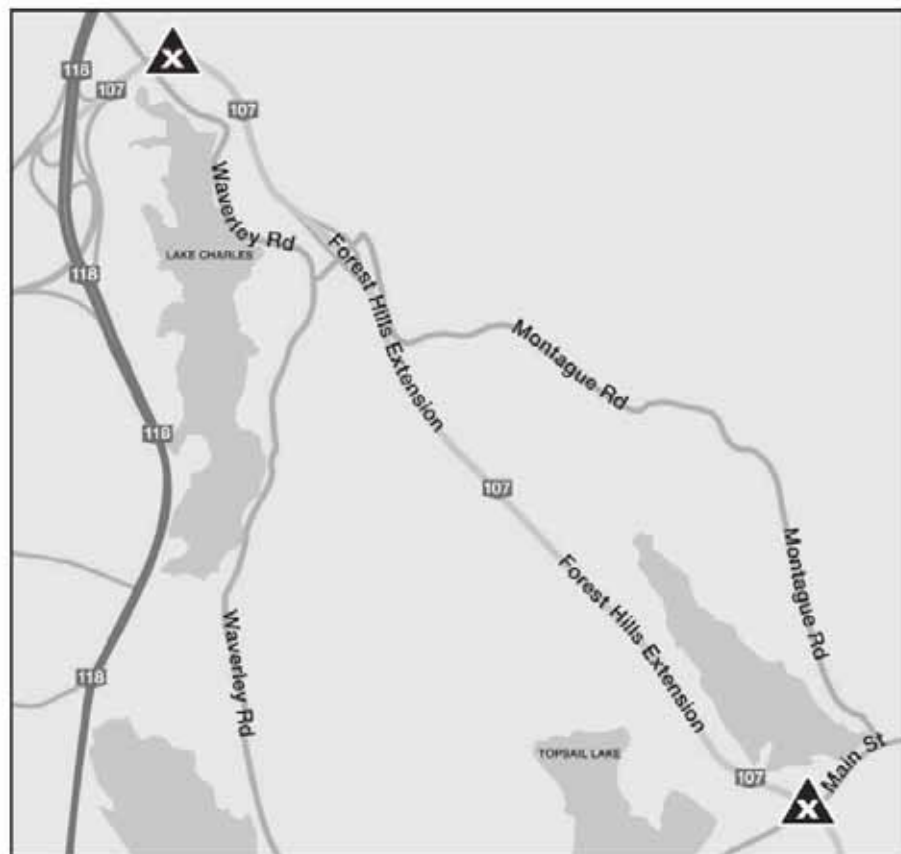

The Halifax Public Gardens will host Garden Day on Friday.

TRAFFIC ADVISORY Forest Hills Extension- Night time Closures

Starting June 10th the Forest Hills Extension (Highway 107), between Highway 118 and Main Street in Dartmouth, will be closed to all traffic during night time hours for repaving and widening.

During weekdays the road will be closed from 7 p.m. until 5 a.m. On Saturday and Sunday morning the road will stay closed until 8 a.m.

By doing this work at night the Province is able to maintain normal traffic flow during the busy daytime hours and reduce the inconvenience to the majority of drivers who use this road.

While the Forest Hills Extension is closed a detour will direct traffic onto Highway 118, Highway 111, and Main Street. The province will provide six variable-message boards, and other signs to inform the public of the road closure.

The project will take about 40 days to complete. During that time drivers travelling at night should adjust their travel times to accommodate the detour.

Slashed budget. Minister calls on school boards to cut admin over teachers

Nova Scotia's education minister says school boards planning to cut teaching positions must first look at slicing administrative costs.

The Chignecto-Central Regional School Board announced Wednesday it will slash 37 positions, drop two buses and reduce hours for librarians in response to provincial budget cuts.

The South Shore Regional School Board says provincial budget cuts have forced it to eliminate 17 teaching positions to balance its books.

But Ramona Jennex says the boards need first to cut from administration costs, and she has offered to send officials from her department to help them do so.

Details

Ramona Jennex says the provincial budget — likely the last one before an election — was carefully crafted to avoid cuts to frontline teaching jobs.

The government announced in February that the province's eight school boards will get $1.047 billion this fiscal year, about $3 million more than last year.

But some of those boards will receive less than they previously did, depending on enrolment levels.

Man fined $5,750 in death of boy at construction site

A construction project manager charged in the death of a 12-year-old Cape Breton boy has been fined $5,750 and sentenced to 100 hours of community service.

Darren MacPhee was charged with failing to take reasonable precautions to ensure health and safety at or near a project following the death of Dylan Noah LeBlanc of Inverness County.

LeBlanc died after he was hit by a boom truck on the Maison Fiset construction site in Cheticamp in August 2010.

MacPhee pleaded not guilty but was convicted in Port Hood provincial court in February.

As part of his sentence, MacPhee must make a $1,000 donation to the Dylan LeBlanc trust fund, conduct three presentations to relevant industry forums and take training programs specific to traffic controls in the workplace.

Report: Police probed Rob Ford video weeks before story broke

Project Traveller.

Toronto's police chief refuses to rule out possibility evidence collected in raid related to mayor

Toronto police using surveillance techniques were "investigating the existence" of an alleged crack-cocaine video linked to Mayor Rob Ford several weeks before the story first surfaced, CTV News reported Thursday in the wake of a massive, multi-city drugs-and-guns sweep by police.

The broadcaster quoted a "highly placed source" as confirming that "persons of interest discussed that video in detail, and referred to the mayor's alleged presence in the video."

The disclosure came as Toronto Police Chief Bill Blair announced 43 people had been arrested, 40 firearms seized and $3 million of drugs confiscated in early-morning raids concentrated on a Dixon Road complex, a cluster of apartment towers considered to be ground zero for the Ford video scandal.

Nineteen people in Toronto and nine in Windsor, Ont., were charged as part of a year-long police and border-security investigation code-named Project Traveller, Blair said at a noon news conference.

He declined to answer any questions about Ford's connection to the evidence, what evidence was seized, how it was obtained or about a Rexdale home involved in the raids where a man photographed with Ford lived.

"The only place for the legal disclosure is in a court of law," he said. "All of the evidence has been secured and it will come out in court where it belongs. We will not jeopardize this case."

'Complex' sweep extends to Edmonton

"Project Traveller is a very complex investigation" involving a gang called the Dixon City Bloods or Dixon Goonies, Toronto Deputy Police Chief Mark Saunders said Thursday. Their network extended to Edmonton and had operated since 2006, he said.

Edmonton police confirmed that officers executed search warrants Thursday, but would not say where or if anyone was arrested. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Crews start cleanup work on B.C. oil spill

Oil spill response teams were at work Thursday containing and cleaning up a spill of light crude from Kinder Morgan's Trans-Mountain pipeline in the B.C. Interior, just weeks after the company officially filed plans for a controversial expansion of the line. The National Energy Board said initial estimates were that the spill was small, and the public and the environment were not at risk.

The energy watchdog said it doesn't yet know the size of the leak, which took place on Crown land. Calgary-based Kinder Morgan says only about two cubic metres, or 12 barrels, of light crude was detected.

Questions raised over Alberta spill

Big impact. First Nations community concerned over effect on environment

Big spill

- The spill covered 42 hectares of land.
- One spill last June near Sundre fouled the Red Deer River after about 475,000 litres of oil spilled.

A First Nation wants answers from a Texas-based oil company after a pipeline spilled 9.5 million litres of industrial waste water in northern Alberta.

Dene Tha' leaders are to meet Monday with Apache Canada Ltd. officials in the remote community of Assumption. Sidney Chambaud, a band councillor, said they want more information about what happened and what the company is going to do about it.

"There are wildlife impacts and water and land impacts," Chambaud said in an interview Thursday.

"Right now within that area the trees, the vegetation and the soil are dead. The water is contaminated."

The Energy Resources Conservation Board has said the spill of water containing salt, oil and minerals was first reported on June 1, but the board didn't learn about its size until Tuesday. Chambaud said the 42-hectare spill is so large it raises questions about how long the pipeline that carries water used in oil and natural-gas operations had been leaking. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Deadly blast shakes Louisiana

A ground-rattling explosion Thursday at a chemical plant in Louisiana ignited a fire that killed at least one person and injured dozens of others, authorities said. Louisiana's health department said 73 people were treated at hospitals for injuries ranging from minor to critical following the Thursday morning explosion. State police Capt. Doug Cain said a body was found by hazardous materials crews going through the aftermath of the blast at the facility owned by The Williams Companies Inc., based in Tulsa, Okla. ## Turkish PM demands an end to occupation of park

Protest. But Erdogan agrees to meet with protesters in a sign he might negotiate

Turkey's prime minister issued a "final warning" to protesters on Thursday, demanding they end their occupation of a park next to Istanbul's Taksim Square that has ignited the largest political crisis of his 10-year rule.

Despite the ultimatum by Prime Minister Recep Tayyip Erdogan, thousands of activists camping out in Gezi Park dug in for a potential culmination of their two-week stand-off with authorities.

A violent police crackdown May 31 on a small sit-in to protect trees in Gezi Park sparked the protests that spread to dozens of cities. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Peace over violence?

- Erdogan was to meet late Thursday night with representatives of the protesters, including Taksim Solidarity. But that group does not speak for the thousands of protesters camping out in the park, so even if a deal is reached the sit-in may not end.

Cops raid PM's office building, arrest senior aide

The anti-organized crime unit in the Czech Republic has carried out raids at the Office of the Government, where Prime Minister Petr Necas is based, and at the Defence Ministry and other places across the country, police said on Thursday.

In comments to journalists, Necas confirmed that Jana Nagyova, the director of his office, was among those arrested. He said he would stand by her.

"At the moment, I have no information that would prove any criminal activity of my collaborators," Necas said.

Police spokesman Pavel Hantak declined to identify any of those arrested.

Necas called on the police and prosecutors to "immediately give reasons for such a massive action."

The Social Democrats, the main opposition party, called for Necas to resign.

Harper addresses trade with the U.K.

Prime Minister Stephen Harper reviews the guard of honour on Thursday at the Hotel National des Invalides in Paris. ADRIAN WYLD/THE CANADIAN PRESS

Prime Minister Stephen Harper thanked British counterpart David Cameron for his "robust advocacy" of a free-trade pact between Canada and the European Union during his address on Thursday in London to British parliamentarians.

The half-hour speech, touching on everything from the economy to global security and the values Canada shares with the United Kingdom, included a pitch for the prized trade agreement long sought by Harper's Conservative government.

"It remains our hope that we will soon achieve a comprehensive economic and trade agreement with the European Union, Canada's second-largest trading partner after the United States," Harper said.

"For Canada, and for Great Britain as a member of the EU, this will be a historic step — a monumental one, in fact: A joint Canada-EU study has shown that a commercial agreement of this type would increase two-way trade by 20 per cent."

Canadian negotiators are under growing pressure to broker a deal with the Europeans before they turn their attention to free-trade talks with the United States. Among the issues believed to be on the table are financial services, Canadian beef exports, procurement limits for provinces and municipalities and drug-patent protection.

However, Harper insisted this week that an "artificial timeline" will not loom over the talks, and that a deal will not be signed unless it is in Canada's best interests.

Ireland. Hospital bungled miscarrying case: Experts

Procedure questioned

The legal limbo has left Irish maternity hospitals and obstetricians to guess when they could perform an abortion to save a woman's life without facing the risk of a murder charge.

A miscarrying woman who died in an Irish hospital should have had her blood poisoning detected much sooner and been offered an abortion to improve her odds of survival, an experts' report concluded Thursday in a case that is forcing Ireland to modernize its abortion laws.

The 108-page report into the October death of Savita Halappanavar documented what the lead investigator described as "a cascade of mistakes" overshadowed by officials' refusal to remove the fetus until its heart stopped beating.

That took four days. By then, the report found, the woman's ill-diagnosed sepsis from a ruptured uterus already had reached lethal levels.

"If it was my case, I would have terminated the pregnancy," said Dr. Sabaratnam Arulkumaran, a London professor of obstetrics and gynecology who led the seven-month probe. The five investigators found that a chain of doctors and nurses all failed to take proactive steps to identify and halt the spread of infection throughout her body.

The report found that when Halappanavar, a 31-year-old Indian dentist living in the western city of Galway, was hospitalized for back pain 17 weeks into her pregnancy, doctors identified she was miscarrying and the fetus could not survive.

But they consistently missed evidence for days pointing to an existing case of sepsis, or blood poisoning, as the cause. Blood-test results were left uninspected and successive shifts failed to read earlier medical notes as vital signs worsened.

The report found that doctors placed too much emphasis on measuring the fetus' heart-beat and too little on investigating why Halappanavar's white blood-cell count was jumping and her blood pressure was falling. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vatican City

Remark criticized

The UN goodwill ambassador for eliminating leprosy has written to Pope Francis complaining about his recent comment that careerism among Catholic Church officials was "a leprosy." In a letter to Francis, Ambassador Yohei Sasakawa wrote that such remarks can reinforce discrimination. He feared the pope's comments could have a big impact in South America, where there are more cases of the illness.

India. Suspected rebels kill 3 in attack on train

Dozens of suspected Maoist rebels fired at a passenger train passing through their stronghold in eastern India on Thursday, killing three people and injuring two others, police said.

About 100 attackers surrounded the train carrying 1,500 people near Jamui, a small town in Bihar state, police said. One of the two drivers stopped the train on seeing the suspected rebels and fled, an officer said.

The dead were a security guard and two passengers. The other train driver suffered bullet wounds.

UN report

Squeeze in — world's population growing

The United Nations forecast Thursday that the world's population will increase from 7.2 billion today to 8.1 billion in 2025, with most growth in developing countries and more than half in Africa. By 2050, it will reach 9.6 billion.

India's population is expected to surpass China's around 2028 when both will have around 1.45 billion, the World Population Prospects report said. China's population is expected to start decreasing after 2030, possibly falling to 1.1 billion in 2100. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More Afghan kids becoming casualties of war: UNICEF

Taliban blamed.

Figures show 56% of child deaths caused by insurgents and 14% by security forces

The number of children killed and injured in Afghanistan's war has risen sharply this year, the UN Children's Fund said, calling the trend "unacceptable" and "very worrying."

At least 414 children were killed or injured in the first four months of this year, up 27 per cent over the same period the previous year, UNICEF said.

Of those, 121 children were killed and 293 were injured through April 30, UNICEF said in figures released Thursday. Roadside bombs and suicide attacks accounted for the largest number of casualties — 37 per cent — and the UN has particularly criticized the Taliban's use of indiscriminate weapons triggered by victims' stepping on or driving over a pressure plate as a possible war crime.

Violence is increasing overall in Afghanistan as the Taliban and other militants press an intense offensive against government targets as international troops hand over security to Afghans. The escalating attacks have caused civilian casualties to soar, including children.

Last week alone, a suicide attack near a school in the eastern province of Paktia killed nine children and wounded seven others, and a father and three children died when their vehicle hit a roadside bomb. And on June 6, an airstrike by military forces killed three children and injured seven in Kunar province. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

*48-MONTH INSTALLMENT LOAN ("Loan") offered by Dell Financial Services Canada Limited on approved credit to eligible customers. Minimum transaction amount of $499 is required. No down payment required. Monthly payment amount set out in the ad is based on an Annual Percentage Rate (APR) of 13.99% and an advance equal to the advertised price for a specific product configuration. If you are approved for a Loan, we will determine the APR for your Loan on the basis of our credit criteria and our assessment of your creditworthiness. Our current Loan APRs range from 13.99% to 28.99%. *No interest for 6 Months with minimum transaction amount of $499 ("No Interest Offer"), subject to certain conditions. Purchase must include an electronics or accessories product. For information on Dell Canada's current electronics and accessories offerings please see www.dell.ca/electronics. No Interest Offer only available to customers outside Quebec who enter into a Loan for qualifying purchases from Dell from June 10 until June 23, 2013, 10 pm EST. The no interest period starts on the day Dell ships the products to you (the "Start Date") and ends 6 months after that date ("No Interest Period"). To take advantage of the No Interest Offer, you MUST (1) pay the full balance before the end of the No Interest Period; AND (2) pay all monthly payments due before the end of the No Interest Period by their payment due dates. If you do not meet either of these conditions, you will be charged interest at the Annual Percentage Rate (APR) assigned to your Loan, accrued and calculated daily from the Start Date. You may arrange a full payout by calling Dell at the number provided with your Agreement. Example of a Loan with an APR of 13.99%: $999 advanced; $27.29 monthly payment; total payable is $1309.92; total cost of borrowing is $310.92. ## Strike could halt VIA Rail in its tracks

Latest proposal. VIA Rail offer has wage increases but also calls for higher pension contributions

The union representing some workers at VIA Rail said the company's offer on the table Thursday would reduce wages, rather than increase them, once higher pension contributions are considered, and it said it was doubtful an agreement could be reached in time to avert a strike.

"What the company wants to do is increase employees' pension contributions substantially over the next three years," said Bob Orr, assistant to the president of the Canadian Auto Workers Union.

The union represents about 2,000 of VIA's customer-service employees, as well as on-board service and maintenance workers at the railway company.

Orr's comments came only hours before Friday's 12:01 a.m. strike deadline.

VIA Rail presented its latest proposal on Wednesday, offering wage increases of two per cent every year for three years.

But the offer also includes higher employee contributions to the pension plan that the union says would result in members taking home less money, not more.

VIA said its employees need to contribute more to the pension because it currently faces a $419-million deficit.

"There are no major concessions that are being asked of current full-time employees, except to have them help maintain the current pension plan by increasing their contributions," VIA spokeswoman Mylene Belanger said on Thursday.

The union also objected to plans that would slash pension benefits for new VIA employees and the rolling back of income protections for seasonal workers.

VIA Rail said Thursday that it was hopeful it could reach an agreement in time and was willing to keep bargaining right up until the deadline.

"Frankly, we don't understand why there should be a work stoppage," Belanger said. "We are prepared to keep talking. We offered a fair and reasonable offer to the Canadian Auto Workers."

Report. Defence minister issued secret instructions to eavesdropping agency

Defence Minister Peter MacKay quietly issued new instructions to Canada's electronic eavesdropping agency that detail how and when it can help CSIS and the RCMP investigate Canadians, records show.

Briefing notes obtained under the Access to Information Act say the directive to the Ottawa-based Communications Security Establishment was one of seven such ministerial instructions issued in 2011.

The CSE monitors foreign computer, satellite, radio and telephone traffic to zero in on threats to Canada. It is not supposed to direct its activities at Canadians. However, the agency can provide assistance to the Mounties and CSIS, Canada's domestic spy service.

Firms can't patent isolated human genes, U.S. high court rules

Washington. Decision covers breast-cancer test brought into public eye by Angelina Jolie's double mastectomy

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled companies cannot patent parts of naturally occurring human genes, a decision with the potential to profoundly affect the emerging and lucrative medical and biotechnology industries.

The high court's unanimous judgment reverses three decades of patent awards by government officials. It throws out patents held by Salt Lake City-based Myriad Genetics Inc. on an increasingly popular breast-cancer test brought into the public eye recently by actress Angelina Jolie's revelation that she had

BRACAnalysis test

- Myriad Genetics has used its patent to come up with its BRACAnalysis test, which looks for mutations on the breast-cancer predisposition gene, or BRCA. Those mutations are associated with much greater risks of breast and ovarian cancer.
- Angelina Jolie revealed last month that her mother died of ovarian cancer and that her maternal grandmother also had the disease.

- She said she carries a defective BRCA1 gene that puts her at high risk of developing breast and ovarian cancers, and her doctor said that the test that turned up the faulty gene link led Jolie to have both of her healthy breasts removed to try to avoid the same fate.

Justice Clarence Thomas, who wrote the court's decision, said that Myriad's assertion — that the DNA it isolated from the body for its proprietary breast- and ovarian-cancer tests were patentable — had to be dismissed because it violates patent rules. The court has said that laws of nature, natural phenomena and abstract ideas are not patentable.

However, the court gave Myriad a partial victory, ruling that while naturally occurring DNA was not patentable, synthetically created DNA could be patented. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

T. rex burger is now extinct

A fast-food restaurant in Manitoba has backtracked on its offer to make customers a burger fit for Fred Flintstone. Barb Barker, an administrative assistant for the Wendy's outlet in Brandon, said they have stopped selling their T. rex burger, consisting of nine quarter-pound patties held together by nine pieces of processed cheese and a flimsy bun. "For obvious reasons, Wendy's of Brandon neither condones nor promotes the idea of anyone consuming a nine-patty hamburger in one sitting," said Barker. REDDIT/THE CANADIAN PRESS

Google predicted to generate $8.9B from mobile ads

Google will sell more mobile advertising than the rest of its rivals combined for the second straight year, according to a new forecast by research firm eMarketer. The report projects Google will generate nearly $8.9 billion US in mobile ad revenue throughout the world this year, after paying commissions to its ad partners.

Unpaid internships up in the air after court finds studio violated wage laws

Unpaid internships have long been a path of opportunity for students and recent grads looking to get a foot in the door in the entertainment, publishing and other prominent industries, even if it takes a generous subsidy from mom and dad.

But those days of working for free could be numbered in the U.S. after a federal judge in New York ruled this week that Fox Searchlight Pictures violated minimum wage and overtime laws by not paying

The decision by U.S. District Judge William H. Pauley III may lead some companies to rethink whether it's worth the legal risk to hire

YOU HAVE TO BE KIDNEY-ING ME

1 WWDC. Apple unveiled its latest products at the 2013 Worldwide Developers Conference (WWDC) in San Francisco this week. The best line of the conference came from Apple marketing exec Phil Schiller. After unveiling the radically redesigned Mac Pro, he said, "Can't innovate anymore, my a--." Great mantra.

2 @HillaryClinton. The former secretary of state unlocked her Twitter account this week, and her Twitter bio lists herself, among other things, as "hair icon," "pantsuit aficionado," "glass ceiling cracker" and "TBD." Now most have a sneaking suspicion that "TBD" means a 2016 presidential bid? In due time, she'll probably make it official. With a tweet.

3 Facebook #hashtags. Now that Facebook has begun to roll out clickable, searchable hashtags (à la Twitter and Instagram) to help users better find content on the social platform, it somehow feels that hashtags have hit their tipping point. #Soon, #we'll #be #using #them #in #every #sentence #we #write. #And #in #everyday #conversation.

4 Covet Garden. This indie Canadian online decor magazine is using the crowd-funding site Indiegogo to help raise money to do a special print issue, Covet Garden Home. Their goal is $18K, and they've raised about $14K with three weeks left in the campaign. Ingenuity is the key in this economy for startups, and this is another great example of using social media to make a dream happen. Now.

5 Twerking. This latest dancing craze (Harlem Shake is so last month) got another huge shake this week when Miley Cyrus (rumoured new Justin Bieber squeeze) wiggled her hips and butt in the bouncy up-and-down motion on stage at a Juicy J concert. I would twerk for you, but it would totally ruin your day — and this latest on-line meme sensation.

6 Nadal's dramatic win. Rafael Nadal won a record-setting eighth French Open title Sunday. The only thing that almost prevented him from winning wasn't his opponent David Ferrer, but a shirtless protester with a white mask holding a lighted flare who jumped out of the stands and interrupted the match. Nadal was briefly rattled but went on to win in straight sets.

7 Real Housewives of Vancouver. The first Canadian version of the hit American franchise made it through two seasons, but won't have a third as Slice Canada has put it on hiatus. One of the problems might have been that the super-rich wives weren't superficial or plastic or vapid enough for viewers compared to their American ilk. Which is saying a lot.

8 Taylor Swift. The teeny-bopper sensation is in Toronto Friday and Saturday to begin the Canadian leg of the Red Tour, before heading west for Winnipeg, Edmonton and Vancouver. Now my wife and daughters will be hitting one of the T.O. shows, but I couldn't bear the thought of singing along to We Are Never Ever Getting Back Together with thousands of tweens.

9 Craigslist. It's known for local classifieds and jobs ads, but sometimes gets wackier. Like this week when a 23-year-old man from Cobourg, Ont., advertised his kidney there. "You can have the left or right, they both work perfectly. I'm in shape and quit smoking a year ago. I'm being more than serious about this, asking $20,000... THIS IS 100% SERIOUS!!!" Enough said.

10 Fired over Skype. The Edmonton Oilers announced Dallas Eakins as their new head coach this week (great hire), but handled the firing of their former coach in a rather odd way. While vacationing in Switzerland, Ralph Krueger was sacked over Skype by GM Craig MacTavish. At least it wasn't by a Facebook wall post.

11 Bowie. The Art Gallery of Ontario made the epic announcement that the exhibition David Bowie will arrive there this fall straight from London's Victoria and Albert Museum. It includes the icon's original stage costumes, instruments, album art, handwritten set lists and lyrics, and more. I already have the opening day, Sept. 25, marked on my calendar.

12 The Purge. This low-budget horror film — it cost about $3 million to make — starring Ethan Hawke, demolished everything else at the box office, taking in $36.4 million. Most of it was filmed in a house. I have a great idea for an indie horror to be shot in the outhouse at my in-laws cottage. All I need is $1.5 million, a camera, a flashlight, a bear and some toilet paper.

Synopsis

The story begins on Krypton, as all good Superman origin stories must. To save his son Kal-El from perishing on the doomed planet, Jor-El (Russell Crowe) rockets him off to a safe haven — Earth. There he is raised by Ma and Pa Kent, (Diane Lane and Kevin Costner), humble farmers who raise Clark Kent (Henry Cavill) as their own and keep his alien heritage a secret, but his extraordinary powers are exposed when a snoopy reporter (Amy Adams) digs into his life and the last surviving Kryptonians, led by General Zod (Michael Shannon) try and invade the planet.

RICHARD CROUSE AND MARK BRESLIN

Up, up and ... it's OK

Man of Steel.

Superman origin story has too much bang and not enough phone booths

Richard: Mark, Man of Steel plays kind of like a Nirvana song. It starts off quiet, then gets loud, then quiet again and then REALLY loud. Thing is Nirvana songs were usually under four minutes and this movie clocks in at well over two hours. Much of it is entertaining, but I have to say my eyeballs felt scorched after the protracted blow-'em-up scene that eats up much of the last 45 minutes of the movie. It's all crash-boom-bang and not nearly as interesting as the stuff that preceded it.

Mark: Richard, I always liked the Superman movies — even the bad ones — for their charm. Although there's some good scenes toward the beginning of the movie, it becomes bombastic and self-righteous; way too serious for its own good. That 45-minute scene you're referring to made me long for headphones with Enya songs playing on a long loop. And I know it's an origin movie, but I longed for the comic contrast between Superman and his journalist alter ego Clark Kent, which is mostly missing from the movie. Then again, we no longer have phone booths. Any of the actors appeal to you, Richard?

RC: I thought Cavill was suitably square-jawed and blue-eyed enough to play the icon lead character and Michael Shannon brought the crazy (as usual for him) to Zod, but I was let down by two other leads. Russell Crowe was fine, although I couldn't help but imagine Ralph Fiennes really eating up the role of Jor-El. Finally, I'm not sure Amy Adams is plucky enough to play Lois Lane.

MB: Cavill was square — I mean — square-jawed, wasn't he? Crowe was fine, but somehow Kevin Costner got to me in a very sentimental turn as Clark's dad. As for Michael Shannon, I can only assume he was forced to over-act at gunpoint, with lines like "Unleash the world machine!!!" For a movie that cost a few hundred million dollars, it was often close to a Flash Gordon serial at times.

RC: I think I wanted more Flash Gordon and less of what was on the screen in front of me. It's an entertaining movie for much of its running time, but the word overkill comes to mind. I feel like less — shorter running time, fewer explosions, not as many fights — would have been more.

MB: And did you notice that so many of the action scenes had the same basic gimmick — concrete being torn up over and over again? And I had to laugh when the entire city of Metropolis is collapsing under alien attack and there are scenes of people just staring at the buildings falling around them. If I see one brick on the ground, I'm outta there!

How to be a superhero

Preparation. No need for a brain to be all brawn

Bruce Banner (The Hulk) is an ingenious scientist, Peter Parker (Spider-Man) is a whiz kid at school — even billionaire playboy Tony Stark (Iron Man) is a brilliant engineer. So to be a superhero you need to be a genius or have a PhD, right? Wrong. “Captain America wasn’t a PhD. Most of the X-Men didn’t have great educations particularly,” says Marvel man Stan Lee, creator of all of the above.

Background. The past is passé

Some of our favourite superheroes brood over their dark past — Bruce Wayne (Batman) witnessed his parents’ murder as a child, and Wolverine was a guinea pig in a secret government experiment that’s mentally scarred him. Painful origins do make for an alluring character — so, would you embellish your own personal history to make your superhero stand out? “My advice would be forget the past,” Lee says. “Think of the future, and think of all the good you can do with your super-power.”

Name. Be original, somehow

He’s been writing comic books for more than 70 years, has conjured up some 350 superheroes and villains, like Doctor Strange, but Lee still admits “coming up with a name is the most difficult part in creating a superhero. ... When I come up with a new character, I’ll come up with a name that I think is great, and then I Google it and I’ll see 500 names just like that for other characters,” he says.

Traits. It’s all down to Lady Luck

“The one attribute that everybody would want to have is luck,” says Lee. “If you’re a superhero and you’re chasing a bad guy, you’ll chase him because you’re lucky. If he’ll shoot at you, he’ll miss because you’re lucky,” he says. (Daredevil, blind but heroic, comes to mind.) “Think of it as a beautiful woman, a spectral form of a ghost — she’s not real, but every time she puts her arms around you, you become lucky.”

Finishing touches. An apt outfit ... and a fantastic catchphrase

Choosing the right costume depends on what superpower you possess, Lee reveals. “If you’re going to be moving around a lot, something tight is the best. If your power is mental, you don’t need a tight costume.” And forget a histrionic, husky voice à la Batman. “The phrases a hero says are the things your audience will remember — if they’re good.”

He may not be a baseball star, but his legs go on for days

Monsters University.

Early audiences have warmed to Charlie Day's character in new animated film

NED EHRBAR
Metro World News in Hollywood

As the furry purple oddball Art in Monsters University, Charlie Day walks away with nearly every scene he's in, which isn't surprising since his monster is mostly just a pair of legs with a face where the crotch would be.

Among early audiences, Art is fast becoming a favourite — or at least that's what people are telling Day.

"Well, people have been saying that to me, and I don't know what their ulterior motives are, but I appreciate it," Day tells Metro.

There is just something captivating about Art.

You know, he's a crazy guy. He's filled with the absurd non-sequiturs. He's positive, he's an optimist and he's been to jail. What's cooler than that? And then the best thing is you get to see what it would be like to be all legs. Legs for days, this guy.

How much were you involved in the design and development?

I did all the design myself. I did all the drawings, I did most of the movie (laughs). No, I did nothing. I did absolutely nothing. By the time I showed up here they had already animated a scene using lines from It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia with the character. I almost feel like they could've taken certain words that I've said from things and cobbled together the entire performance, but they were nice enough to let

The sun is still shining...

Charlie Day got his start with the off-beat FX comedy It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia, and he has no plans of stopping the series now — at least not this year. "We're almost done filming the ninth season. Nine seasons," he says with eyes wide. "We were celebrating our 100th episode the other day. It's been a wonderful decade of a lot of laughs. We definitely are going to do a 10th season, and after that I don't know. It depends on if FX wants to keep it going or not. I think creatively we're open to it. I still feel like we're finding new and interesting things for these characters to do and say."

me do some of the work.

What was your own college experience like?

I didn't go to as large a school

(as Monsters University), and there wasn't really much Greek life on campus. I went to a school called Merrimack College in North Andover, Mass., about 20 minutes or so north of Boston. I had a lot of friends and met new people and got new ideas and became a better thinker and a more well-rounded person up there. I loved it.

Did you start off college with one idea of what you were going to do with your life and end up with another?

Yes. Well ... I was a huge baseball guy growing up, as was everyone in my town. I was passionate about it. I worked really hard at it and I was half-way decent at it, but not ultimately good enough. And by college I realized that it's not going to go any further, and then I started dabbling in acting and the arts, and all that came much easier and more naturally to me (laughs).

True Blood stardom means free food perks

Rob Kazinsky. British actor joins cast and talks about experience of shooting U.S. series

NED EHRBAR
Metro World News in Hollywood

This season on True Blood, there's a new faerie in town with Rob Kazinsky's Ben Flynn, a supernatural love interest for Sookie Stackhouse (Anna Paquin).

The British actor is aware his introduction will likely rile some of the show's relationship-obsessed fans, but he's just happy to have a job that comes with free snacks.

So, any trepidation about coming on as a new love interest for Sookie?

I am 100 per cent certain that I am going to be absolutely hated by everyone. Team Eric's going to hate me, Team Bill's going to hate me, Team Alcide — they're all going to absolutely loathe this guy just because he's not them. And I am prepared for that backlash. However I think in time people will come to realize that Ben, for the first time, offers a chance at happiness that none of those guys could ever give her. He is essentially a much more honest and a much more accessible guy than everybody else. But that certainly doesn't mean he's boring.

How does this compare to your time on the British soap opera Eastenders?

Different worlds. Vastly different worlds. I did 254 episodes of Eastenders and averaged about 85 episodes a year, shooting anywhere between 30 and 50 pages of dialogue a day. And then this, we're doing 10 episodes a year, so it's a slightly different machine. (laughs) The whole way everything goes on here in America is very, very different to how it's run in England. The biggest difference to me is always craft services. Having free food on set is just the best thing that's ever happened to anybody ever.

Is craft service really not a thing in England?

For the BBC there's no such thing as crafty or free food. At Eastenders there wasn't, anyway. So having doughnuts on set? Wonderful. Fresh fruit all the time?

Having a coffee machine instead of having to pay three pounds for your coffee every time you want one? Oh my God, it's great.

This is news to me. I feel like my only exposure to British TV production was Extras, which looked more in line with American setup.

I think that was the idea so that it would be universally sellable. I mean, my experience in England is fairly limited to the soap that I did and the one other TV show I did. The way they do it [in the U.S.], when I did Brothers and Sisters, Law & Order, everything, it's a much easier place to be off-set, you know what I mean? There's much more to do when you're not working.

The look of choice on Queen Street West in Toronto Sunday night might well be Thierry Lasry shades and drop-crotch pants as music fans gather for the block party of the year. Crossover K-Pop sensation PSY is sharing hosting duties at MuchMusic's annual MMVA bash along with VJ's Scott Willats and Lauren Toyota. Remember the Gentleman singer's style code: "dress classy to dance cheesy." Set the mood with the Red Carpet special at 8 p.m. ET and then the party airs live on MuchMusic, and on Fuse in the U.S. at 9 p.m. ET. Here's five reasons why you should tune in, or even better, turn up!

scene@metronews.ca

Red carpet roll up

Arriving in style is a hallmark of the MMVAs. In past years we've had Billy Talent roll up atop a Second World War era Sherman Tank on loan from an Ontario museum, Simple Plan cruise up in a pink limousine with band members rocking short white shorts and midriff-baring tees, and Katy Perry serving up cool treats in an ice cream truck. When it comes to outlandish entrances, Marianas Trench, who leads the pack this year with six nomination nods, typically takes the cake. In past years, the Vancouver pop-rockers have come to the carpet in a hot tub, human-size hamster balls and even a mobile bouncy house.

reasons to watch this year's MMVAs

Video of the year

This is the biggie. Could it go to nominations leader Marianas Trench for Desperate Measures, where frontman Josh Ramsay channels Tom Cruise circa Risky Business and Toy Story's Woody, or perhaps Drake reliving his coming up days and hamming it up at Shoppers Drug Mart in Started from the Bottom? The other contenders in the mix are Serena Ryder for Stompa, The Weeknd for Wicked Games, and Classified for Inner Ninja.

Taking to the stage

Artists leave it all on the stage at the MMVAs — from Avril Lavigne's cheek-revealing rendition of Complicated back in 2002 (which she had fun with the following year with some intentional mooning action) to Lady Gaga's electric medley a few years back that culminated with fireworks shooting out of her bustier. This year PSY, the master of cheesy dance moves, may treat us to the wild gyrations that accompany Gentleman, his viral smash — the video has more than 400 million YouTube views — or kick it relatively old school by social media standards with Gangnam Style. Regardless, the performance slate for the MMVAs is dripping with hot artists that will keep audiences moving. The lineup includes Demi Lovato, Armin Van Buuren featuring Trevor Guthrie, Ed Sheeran and Marianas Trench.

Billy Talent

The MMVAs have been kind to these Mississauga punk rockers in the past, feting them with 29 nominations and nine wins. But they may want to clear off some shelf space on the mantle. The video for Surprise Surprise is on the ballot in a trio of categories, so they're in spitting distance of surpassing Our Lady Peace's all-time record haul of 10 wins. Who is the queen of the MMVAs? Look no further than Avril Lavigne, who'll notch her fifth MMVA performance (the most of any artist) this year.

Handling hot hardware

Taylor Swift is sticking around town after a pair of sold out shows at the Rogers Centre to hand out an award. Among the presenters joining T-Swizzle in distributing MMVAs to their worthy recipients are a bevy of faces sure to illicit teen squeals when they take the stage: Teen Wolf's alpha heartthrob Tyler Hoechlin, Revenge's Joshua Bowman, Glee's Naya Rivera, Big Bang Theory's Kunal Nayyar, Arrow's Stephen Amell (pictured) and Suits' Patrick J. Adams, to name a few.

METRO DISH

OUR TAKE ON THE WORLD OF CELEBRITIES

The Word

Banal boat duty highlights redundancy of the Royals

ALEXANDRA CAVALLIO
Metro World News

Evidence that the Royals are just redundant figure-heads: one super important royal duty that the Duchess of Cambridge had to take care of recently included blessing the newest ship in the Princess Cruises fleet.

The only woman capable of such a lofty task, the very pregnant Kate apparently smashed a giant champagne bottle on the cruise ship's helm in order to officially christen it "Royal Princess."

She then said "I name this ship Royal Princess. May God bless her and all who sail in her."

David Cameron must have been off on some sort of other really important business, because we find it hard to believe he would shirk a crucial political event like this of his own volition.

Harry Styles

Take tatt! Styles and Bieber appear to be in an ink war

One Direction's Harry Styles is giving Justin Bieber a run for his money when it comes to accumulating body art. It's tough to say which 19-year-old pop star has more body art at this point, but Styles is at least being a bit bolder with his references: The Brit showed off a pair of George Michael-inspired ankle tattoos while out in Miami this week, according to the Daily Mail. Just above each foot, Styles has the words "Never gonna dance again" inscribed, referencing a lyric from the 1984 Wham! hit Careless Whisper. Your move, Bieber.

Martinez may be French, but Berry will have a Yankee doodle boy

Halle Berry is having a boy, and she's having him in the States. At least that's what her fiancé, Olivier Martinez, let slip to People magazine. "My son will be an American, but I remain French," Martinez said during the Champs-Élysées Film Festival in Paris this week. "I remain a Frenchman in America, but I adapt to American culture. I feel good there — but I'm still a foreigner."

The steak house comes to dad this Father's Day

Dinner. Cook this twist on the Batman and Robin of manly fare — steak and potatoes

1. Heat the oven to 350 F.
2. In nonstick skillet over medium-high, heat 1 tablespoon of the oil. Add grated potatoes, pressing down with spatula, then reduce heat to medium and cook until golden brown on bottom, 12 minutes. Remove skillet from heat. Set large dinner plate over skillet, then invert to transfer potatoes, browned side up, onto plate.
3. Return skillet to heat and add another 1/2 tablespoon of oil. Slide potatoes back into the

This recipe serves six. MATTHEW MEAD/ THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ingredients

- 4 tbsp extra-virgin olive oil
- 2 medium russet potatoes, peeled and coarsely grated
- Kosher salt and black pepper
- 1 medium shallot, minced
- 1 tbsp white wine vinegar
- 2 tbsp dry white wine
- 2 tsp dried tarragon
- 6 oz 1/3-less fat cream cheese (Neufchâtel)
- 1 1/2 lbs flank steak, trimmed of any visible fat
- 1 1/2 lbs baby spinach leaves
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 tsp chopped fresh tarragon

4. Meanwhile, in saucepan over medium-high, combine shallot, vinegar, white wine, tarragon, hefty pinch of salt and few grinds of pepper. Bring to boil, then reduce heat to simmer. Cook gently until reduced to about 1 tablespoon. Add cream cheese, 1 tablespoon at a time, whisking each until incorporated. Whisk in 2 tablespoons water, then set aside.
5. Wipe out skillet, add 1

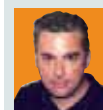

- tablespoon of remaining oil and heat it over medium-high. Pat steak dry, sprinkle on both sides with salt and pepper, then add to skillet. Cook to desired doneness, 5 minutes per side for medium rare, then transfer it to platter, cover loosely with foil and let rest 5 minutes.
6. While steak rests, add tablespoon of oil to skillet and reduce heat to medium. Add spinach in 4 batches, adding more as each batch cooks down slightly. Add remaining 1/2 tablespoon of oil after first 2 batches of spinach. Cook until spinach is just wilts, then add garlic and salt and pepper to taste. Cook for another minute, then keep warm on low heat.

7. Remove potato pancake from the oven and cut it into 6 wedges. Slice steak thinly at angle against the grain. Add juices from resting steak to sauce along with fresh tarragon, and additional water, if necessary, to reach the desired consistency. Warm sauce over medium heat just until hot.
8. Transfer potato wedge, mound of spinach and some of steak to each of 6 serving plates. Drizzle sauce over each portion of steak and serve. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS/ SARA MOULTON, AUTHOR OF SARA MOULTON'S EVERYDAY FAMILY DINNERS.

One of my resolutions for 2013 was to barbecue better. I've spent too many years tossing burgers on the grill and turning to my glass as they turn into charcoal.

For inspiration, I've looked to Argentina. It's a country where grilling is more than a cooking philosophy, it's a way of life.

While beef is king at an asado, the Argentinean term for barbecue, a typical grilled menu can cover a number of courses featuring a variety of meat cuts including organs that Canadians find an acquired taste. Chitlins anyone?

Nothing washes down all that protein better than a glass of red wine, which is one of the reasons why malbec is the star of Argentina's wine industry. The grape produces deep wines with varying levels of spiciness that pair perfectly with accretive flavours (like those found in barbecue sauces).

Bodegas Catena Zapata is one of the country's most celebrated vineyards. Its 2011 Alamos Malbec ($13.95 to $14.99) is a balanced red with ripe berry fruit and a flowing black pepper trail.

Pass the sweetbreads.

POLISHED AND PRETTY

Brushing your pooch makes it look polished and pretty. But it has many more benefits.

It keeps your dog's coat free of tangles, matts and debris and removes old and shedding hair. It also gives you the opportunity to do a little doggie bonding and helps you learn about your dog's body — you can look and feel for lumps, cuts or scabs, as well as fleas and ticks. Note that this summer, the word is that ticks are out in full force, so be on the lookout.

Make brushing a positive experience for you and your dog by doing it regularly. The dog will get used to it, you will get good at it and there won't be an opportunity for tangles and matts to get out of control and make the process uncomfortable and lengthy.

"Start with a part down the backbone, so you know you're getting all the layers of hair," says Amy Graham, a PetSmart groomer and salon manager in Stoney Creek, Ont. Systematically, move from section to section to ensure you are getting all areas.

"Keep an eye on the dog's skin — if it appears red, he may be getting a brush burn."

Remember to brush gently, confining your brushing to the hair and not the skin as much as possible, especially in sensitive areas.

If you are using a deshedding tool on a shedding breed, "simply run the tool over the dog's coat to remove excess hair."

If the job gets too difficult for you to handle easily it may be time to take your dog for professional grooming.

STOCKLITE/VEER

THE RIGHT TOOLS FOR A HEALTHY COAT

- For double-coated breeds with thick undercoats like collies or collies or chow chows, choose a deshedding tool like a Furminator.
- For long-coated dogs without undercoats, such as poodles, use a slicker brush with short, pin-like bristles and a

- comb to check for knots and tangles.
- Short-haired dogs like boxers or bulldogs can be brushed with a rubber brush, or use a Furminator if you are trying to help reduce shedding."
- Also have some detangling spray on hand to help with tangles.

MANAGE YOUR DOG'S SHEDDING

In summer, shedding is nature's way of ridding a dog's body of the old, excess hair they grew during winter to insulate their bodies. Shedding also eliminates hair that might be damaged. Pet owners know that cleaning up a dog's shedding hair comes with the territory. Even hypoallergenic dogs like poodles shed a little. But there are ways to reduce shedding and remove hair effectively.

GIVE YOUR PET A BRUSH

Brushing your dog on a regular basis is one of the best ways to reduce hair in your home.

"While all breeds need to be brushed, it's especially important in summer for long-haired breeds with undercoats like golden retrievers, malamutes and huskies to help reduce shedding and cool the dog in summer," says Amy Graham, a groomer and salon manager with PetSmart in Stoney Creek, Ont.

Depending on the breed of your dog, brush at least three times a week — dogs with lots of excess hair will benefit from daily brushing.

BATHE YOUR DOG

This is easier for short-haired breeds without thick undercoats like pugs or labs.

"If your dog is matted or has a thick undercoat, bathing may only make the matting worse or make it difficult to rinse out the shampoo, which is bad for the skin," Graham says. "Leave the tough jobs like these to a groomer."

GET YOUR DOG GROOMED

"Groomers have professional-strength blow dryers and tools to make the job more efficient," Graham says. "A groomer's blow dryer is so strong that it loosens the undercoat, and the groomer can brush during the drying process, something that can't be done easily at home."

Long-coated dogs should go to the groomer every four to six weeks; short-coated dogs every six to eight weeks.

FEED YOUR DOG THE RIGHT DIET

What a dog eats will be reflected in the condition of the animal's coat, so good-quality food aligned to the dog's health needs is essential.

Moms everywhere hail the dawn of the modern-day dad

Joint effort. The days of one-sided parenting appear to be a thing of the past as new age fathers everywhere step up to the plate

Laura Radocaj of Vero Beach, Fla., was warned when she was pregnant with twins that motherhood would be harder than she imagined — especially because she planned to go back to work while the twins were still babies. “But this has been the easiest transition,” said Radocaj, 28, who works from home in corporate communications. So what’s her secret?

Her husband, Marco, also 28, puts in just as much time with child care and housework as she does, even though he works full-time for an air-conditioning company. “If your partner is splitting things 50-50, it’s easy,” said Laura.

“Before, when everyone made motherhood seem like such a big deal, men weren’t chipping in as much.”

Something is changing with today’s young fathers. By their own accounts, by their wives’ testimonies, and according to time-use studies and other statistics, more men are doing more around the house, from packing school lunches and doing laundry to getting up in the middle of the night with a screaming infant.

“If it’s not my job, then it’s her job, and that wouldn’t be fair,” said Marco.

But it’s not just about sharing chores. For dads in their 20s and 30s, being an involved father is part of their identity. They blog about changing diapers, they chat nonchalantly with colleagues about breastfeeding, and they trade recipes for baby food while working out with guys at the gym.

For their part, the new dads say they want things divided equally. Fatherhood, says Jeremy Foster, 37, of Kan-

Light bulb moment

“They (the baby bags) were so feminine, there was no way in hell I was going to carry one of them.”

Founder of DiaperDude bags Chris Pegula
On what first got him thinking about making baby bags for fathers.

sas City, Mo., has gone from a “provide, protect scenario, to a team effort, especially nowadays with couples raising children where both work full time.”

Foster and his wife also have his-and-her diaper bags — hers with a floral pattern, his a grey-and-orange messenger bag from DiaperDude.com. The company was founded 10 years ago by Chris Pegula of Santa Monica, Calif., a father of three who was put off by his wife’s taste in diaper bags.

“They (the baby bags) were so feminine, there was no way in hell I was going to carry one of them,” said Pegula, now 41. “They had colourful stripes and flowers and leopard prints. They were basically purses. I went to look for a bag for myself but there wasn’t anything on the market in a dad category.” Diaper Dude now sells dozens of styles designed to appeal to men, from camouflage prints to bags with baseball team logos.

Part of why dads are doing more around the house may be that women are doing more in the workplace. A study from the Pew Research Center this month found that mothers are the breadwinners in a record 40 per cent of families.

At the same time, the number of stay-at-home dads is twice what it was 10 years ago — though still a relatively small number at 176,000. And in two-thirds of married couples with children under 18, both parents work, according to the U.S. Census.

Canadians back NHL's visor rule, poll finds

A new poll suggests a majority of Canadians support the NHL's decision to make visors mandatory for incoming players.

Four out of five people surveyed in a Canadian Press Harris-Decima poll said they agreed with the new proposal.

Some 52 per cent strongly agreed with the new rule, which still needs to be approved by the NHL board of governors, while 28 per cent somewhat agreed.

Only eight per cent disagreed with the change.

Suspension costs Ontario teams tourney in Quebec

The shunning of Quebec soccer has begun.

Hundreds of Ontarians won't be going to Montreal for a soccer tournament this weekend, amid a political dispute between the Quebec and national soccer bodies over turbans.

The Montreal host association confirmed Thursday that 20 Ontario youth teams are not being allowed to come to play.

This week, the Canadian Soccer Association suspended the Quebec Soccer Federation over its controversial turban ban.

The suspension includes prohibiting Quebec teams from participating in — or hosting — interprovincial matches and national competitions. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Penguins hold onto dynamic duo

The Pittsburgh Penguins are keeping hockey's best one-two punch together through their primes.

The Penguins and forward Evgeni Malkin agreed to an eight-year deal that will keep him and Sidney Crosby in the fold well into the next decade. The $76-million deal begins with the 2014-15 season and carries an average salary cap hit of $9.5 million, a little bit less than the $10.6 million Crosby will average over the first nine years of the 12-year deal he signed in 2012. # Plato's philosophy simple: Believe

Basketball. Rick Plato bringing plenty of confidence into the role of new men's coach at Dalhousie

philip.croucher@metronews.ca

Call it confidence. Call it cocky.

But Rick Plato believes in his ability and the 56-year-old says he's ready to bring that attitude to the Dalhousie Tigers as its new men's basketball coach.

"I believe in myself. I believe in my upbringing. I just know I can get the job done," the Wellington resident said on Thursday.

"Anybody who wants to be successful, you have to believe in yourself."

The Tigers believe in Plato, too, and it's why they've hired him to be the team's new coach, replacing John Campbell, who stepped down on May 1 to become the bench boss with the University of Toronto Varsity Blues.

In Plato, the Tigers get someone with a winning tradition at the Canadian college level.

For the past 25 years, Plato has been coaching the Mount Saint Vincent Mystics men's basketball team, leading the club to 14 appearances at nationals and two medals — bronze in 1992 and silver in 2008.

Plato says he's been looking at making the jump to varsity for a while, and after failing to land the vacant Saint Mary's Huskies men's basketball job two years ago, he applied at Dalhousie and got it.

"I'm just ready to take the next step," he said.

To take on the job with the Tigers, Plato is retiring from being a high-school teacher at Charles P. Allan High School in Bedford following a 27-year stint.

During his basketball playing days, Plato was a member of the Saint Mary's Huskies from 1976 to 1981, and helped them win two national titles.

Plato was known for being a hard worker out on the court, something he continues to demand as a coach.

"I push because I care," he said. "There's going to be times when (the players) wish I probably wasn't their coach, but you have to pay the price to get to the top."

NBA Finals. Heat regain sizzle to even series

LeBron James scored 33 points while playing with the aggression and ferocity that everyone expects of the four-time MVP, leading the Miami Heat to a 109-93 victory over the San Antonio Spurs on Thursday night that evened the NBA Finals at two games apiece.

James also had 11 rebounds and four assists and finally got some much-needed help from his struggling All-Star teammates. Dwyane Wade scored 32 points, Chris Bosh had 20 points and 13 rebounds and the defending champions made sure the series will head back to South Beach.

Tony Parker had 15 points and nine assists while playing through a sore right hamstring for the Spurs, who were trying to move one step closer to their fifth championship.

Game 5 in the best-of-seven series is Sunday night in San Antonio.

Bruins not fazed by 3OT loss

Stanley Cup final.
Boston drawing from 2011 playoff experience

Boston coach Claude Julien isn't worried because the Bruins have been here before.

Even after a triple-overtime loss to Chicago in Game 1 of the Stanley Cup final that would demoralize the most veteran of groups, the Bruins are calm and confident.

"We've been through a lot," Julien said. "You can chalk that down to experience of having been through a lot, the ups and downs. So we don't get rattled anymore. We know what we can do."

Julien recalled trailing the Vancouver Canucks 2-1 in the 2011 final before coming back to win in seven. He also pointed out that the Bruins lost the first two games to the Montreal Canadiens at home in the first round two years ago.

"I think you've had experience in the past when we've been down two games and bounced back," centre Chris

Kelly said. "Being here before and knowing what to expect is definitely beneficial."

So climbing out of a hole is nothing new for Boston, which still has most of its team intact but might have to play Game 2 on Saturday without right-winger Nathan Horton, who left Wednesday night with an apparent upper-body injury.

With or without Horton, the Bruins have plenty of leaders who know the drill.

"Vancouver it was everybody's kind (of) first time around, right?" defenceman Andrew Ference said. "So you lose those couple games (it's) maybe a heavier feeling than it is this morning amongst the group because guys are probably a little bit better at turning the page." THE CANADIAN PRESS

Kidd in play as Nets' new coach

Meet the new guy, Jason Kidd.

Less than two weeks after ending his long, all-star career, Jason Kidd acknowledged he has "a lot to learn about coaching" Thursday as he took the Brooklyn Nets job despite having no experience leading a team from the bench.

Now a point guard who was all about assists in his 19 years on the court will be looking for a little help.

"Nervous," the 40-year-old Kidd said when asked how he felt. "I'm a rookie. I go from being one of the oldest players in the league to now a rookie coach. I'm very excited about this challenge. We have a special opportunity to achieve a championship-calibre team."

Kidd retired earlier this month after one season with the New York Knicks, and the Nets decided to hire him to replace P.J. Carlesimo — a move that comes with some obvious risks since Kidd has never been a head coach.

MMA. Evans knows his enemy ahead of UFC 161

Rashad Evans says it will be a little crazy looking across the cage on Saturday in Winnipeg at Dan Henderson, a veteran fighter he has followed for years.

"I have a tremendous amount of respect for Dan and it's going to be fun because I've watched his style for a long time," Evans said Thursday.

"I kind of modelled my style after his a little bit."

Evans, with an MMA record of 22-3-1 and a UFC record of 12-3-1, is still predicting a win when the light heavyweights meet at UFC 161.

He's coming off losses to Jon Jones and Rogerio Nogueira, who was to be in one of the cancelled fights Saturday that bumped Evans-Henderson into the main-event slot.

"Speed I think is going to be the biggest factor in this fight," he added.

Both are former champions who would like to get another title shot, although neither was begging for one Thursday.

"Eventually, I beat enough people, I do it impressively enough, they're going to want to give me a title shot," said Evans.

Henderson, 42 to Evans' 33, is looking to improve on his MMA record of 29-9. He has a UFC record of 6-3 that dates all the way back to UFC 17 in 1998 and lost his last fight in a split decision to Lyoto Machida in February.

He knows what to expect from Evans.

"I think it's going to be a war. He's quick and dangerous on his feet and a good wrestler," said Henderson.

Henderson has a reputation as a great puncher, but Evans says he can hold his own.

"I believe I have a heavier punch but Dan Henderson, his punch is legendary. He's silenced a lot of people with the H bomb." THE CANADIAN PRESS

Horoscopes

Aries

March 21 - April 20

Good things are sure to come your way today but exactly what kind of good things remains to be seen. You may well benefit from something you hear, maybe when you should not have been listening.

Taurus

April 21 - May 21

Anyone who tries to make you feel you have done something wrong is not a friend and best avoided. Your mood is positive, so it's unlikely you will be too fazed.

Gemini

May 22 - June 21

You will sail through what has to be done today. You will find ways to overcome obstacles placed in your path. Gemini is one of the more adaptable signs of the zodiac, and that works in your favour.

Cancer

June 22 - July 23

You have much to think about today and you need to make sure you are not interrupted by people whose problems are, to your mind at least, rather trivial. Find a quiet corner where you can think in peace.

Leo

July 24 - Aug. 23

What appeared so difficult yesterday will suddenly be the easiest thing. Chances are it wasn't actually that difficult at all. You were just in an unnecessarily negative frame of mind.

Virgo

Aug. 24 - Sept. 23

Stop worrying what others might think and do what you feel is right. Sometimes you can be a bit too analytical for your own good, so switch and let your heart guide you.

Libra

Sept. 24 - Oct. 23

You may have to tell someone that you cannot deliver on what you promised. Chances are they won't mind in the slightest. It seems like they didn't want you to do it.

Scorpio

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

The solution to a problem is simplicity but you are unlikely to see it if you are so convinced there has been an injustice. Calm down, it's really not that important.

Sagittarius

Nov. 23 - Dec. 21

Stop panicking and trust your instincts. If you listen to the small voice inside your head you will find a way out of your dilemma. It's amazing what a bit of perspective can do.

Capricorn

Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

People you work with may do things you don't approve of today but in the greater scheme of things it's no big deal. By all means laugh when they discover they've made fools of themselves.

Aquarius

Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

With both Mars and Jupiter moving through the most dynamic area of your chart, you are full of confidence and eager to show what you can do. So, what can you do? Absolutely anything you like.

Pisces

Feb. 20 - March 20

What happens today will encourage you to believe that the good days are on their way back but that is not an invitation to do something stupid. Keep your goal in mind at all times, and keep moving towards it. SALLY BROMPTON
